Guest Speaker

Jennifer Jump - “A Word about Vocabulary”

Discover ways to engage students with high-yield vocabulary instruction through explicit teaching, authentic conversation, and responsive teaching. Using research, Jen will share practical, engaging and useful strategies to develop vocabulary for all students.

Jennifer Jump is an Academic Officer for Teacher Created Materials. In this role, Ms. Jump provides professional development and training on TCM curriculum materials and Shell Education professional resources for districts, teachers, and educational trainers.

Jen is a passionate educator, who has spent twenty years in various roles dedicated to student achievement. Before joining TCM, she contributed to curriculum and professional development supporting the school system in Washington D.C. She led the curriculum work, providing teachers with organized, content-rich, text set curriculum for ELA in grades K-8.

She also provided professional learning for both large groups of teachers and individual teachers through coaching to improve the literacy outcomes in the district.
