

Prevention Education 101

This module, in partnership with the Ohio Department of Education, is brought to you by the Educational Service Center of Central Ohio and the Central Ohio ADAMHS boards.

This self-paced professional development module focuses on the practice and application of evidence-based prevention principles, policies, practices, strategies and programs to help educators understand the tenets of prevention in schools. It is also intended to inform, educate, alter risk behaviors, and affect environmental factors in order to provide referrals to other services. A certificate of completion for one contact hour will be provided upon completion of this module.
